

THE SOCIAL COST OF NATIONAL SECURITY

*Assessing the impact of global counter-terrorism initiatives
on Canadian society*

- What are the social costs versus benefits of the security agenda?
- What are the links between privacy, information sharing, broader human rights and national security?
- How has life changed for impacted communities?
- What is the role of the media?

Join us for a day-long interdisciplinary symposium at the University of Toronto's Faculty of Law to explore these important issues and their impact on vulnerable groups in Canada.

Registration (full-day access to the symposium + lunch and light snacks included)

$50 - general public

$25 - members of the Canadian Civil Liberties Association

$10 - student members of the Canadian Civil Liberties Association

Free for University of Toronto law students

<http://ccla.org/events/social-cost-of-national-security/>

Scan this code for more information

OCTOBER 19 2012
9AM-5PM

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
FACULTY OF LAW - FLAVELLE HOUSE
84 QUEEN'S PARK, TORONTO, ONTARIO

INTERNATIONAL
HUMAN RIGHTS
PROGRAM

Keynote address by Mr. Ben Emmerson, Q.C.

UN Special Rapporteur on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms
while Countering Terrorism

CANADIAN
CIVIL LIBERTIES
ASSOCIATION

ASSOCIATION
CANADIENNE DES
LIBERTES CIVILES